Guide dog Calvin's paw print marks start to charity home

Leading WA construction company Pindan has laid the foundations of a new charity home to benefit the Association for the Blind WA, which has been given the stamp of approval by ambassador guide dog Calvin.

To celebrate the start of construction of the home at the new Waters Edge estate in Viveash, Calvin left his lasting mark in the drying slab with a commemorative paw print.

Pindan's project manager of the estate, Troy Gorton, said Calvin's endorsement of the home meant a great deal to the team which had rallied together to build it.

"It was fantastic to meet Calvin and have his stamp of approval which was really rewarding for the team and the contractors who have shown great support for our initiative to help blind and vision impaired West Australians," he said.

Mr Gorton said thanks went to the contractors who had generously donated their time and services to help build the home, including Midland Brick, Estuary Plumbing, West End Concrete Contractors, C&L Bardon Bricklaying, Dowell Windows, Gilledge Kitchens & Cabinets, Advance Plastering, BGC Concrete, Collins Electrical and Owen Industries.

"We're all very excited about the opportunity to help such a valuable charity and are dedicated to doing our best to make this a stand-out home, so I'm sure it will attract a lot of buyer interest since it's located in a great area and will have special meaning to whoever ends up owning it," he said.

Once the charity home is finished, Calvin will leave his final mark with a paw print display at the front entrance.

The charity home will go up for auction later this year.

Money raised through the sale of the home will help pay for vital initiatives such as sponsoring guide dog instructors, children's places in the association's kindergarden program and social and life skills activities camp, or buying critical new equipment for its industry skills centre.
